Terrific Explosion of the Semocratic Party.

From the New York Heraldy 28d. From the New York Herald; 28d.

The seeds of corruption, demoralization and dissolution were sown broadcast over the party under Van Buren's Administration, and his crushing defeat in 1849 would have been the last of the Democracy but for the follies of the triumphant Whig party—From the follies of the opposition, the almighty nigger, and the lucky accidents of the hour, the Democracy, since 1836 a lean minority of the popular vote of the Union, managed, like a bankrupt, by the extension of his notes, to hold fast to the federal spoils, with only a failure or two, down to this day.

There was a report yesterday that Mr. Douglas had sent a dispatch to Dean Richmond withdrawing his name as a candidate, in order to save the party. The report was mond withdrawing his name as a candidate, in order to save the party. The report was doubtless a feeler, which it was discovered came too late. The lines of division and of revolt between the Douglas and ant Douglas wings of the Convention had become too tightly drawn to be any longer within the control of Mr. Douglas. He was like the necromancer who had conjured up a spirit from the infernal regions, but could 1 of bid him down again.

Well, what of all this: There is an ex Well, what of all this: There is an explosion of the dominant party in the general government for the last thirty-two years. It came in upon the glory of the battle of Naw Orleans, it goes out, goes down, and goes to pieces, upon the miserable abstraction of Squatter Sovereignty. The event makes a new epoch, a new departure, a new order of things, in our political affairs. For good or evit, it is the most momentous event in our political history since the first election of Jefferson. What is to follow? The triumph of the Republicans—the election of Lincoln, a Republican Congress, a Republican Admin-Republican Congress, a Republican Admin-istration—and what then? The imagination vainly endeavors to compass the comprehen-sive changes thus foreshadowed in our political parties and our whole political system.

From the New York Times, 28d.

From the Now York Times, 28d.

The whole country has been profoundly disgusted by the action of the Baltimore Convention. Even those who have hitherto preserved their faith in the Democratic party have been driven into skepticism by the utter demoralization which has characterized its proceedings. It has been a hot, passionate, selfish wrangle of contending factions from beginning to end. There has not been a state-smallke movement, or a patriotic impulse, visible in it from the beginning to the end. The contest has been furious and bitter—yet it has turned upon the most patry of partizan interests throughout. Any nomination which the convention may make will be deprived of half its weight by the prefound sense of distrust and dissatisfaction which its action has created.

From the Chicago Herald (Dem.) 28. Long continued peace and prosperity have planted the canker at the heart of the great National Democracy. Personal ambition fectional hate and the spoils of office have been at work. The old giant, that has so often crushed out opposition, totters and reels like a drunken man. Disagreement, strife, hatred and revenge sit in the holy seats, torn from the hands of impartiality and friendship. The times are very sick— almost unto death. Reason has succumbed almost unto death. Reason has succumbed to-passion, and mad selfishness has triumphed over love of country and loyalty to party principles. The Demooracy at Baltimore, as well as at Charleston, have shown sad evidences that we have failen on evil times.—
Discord, selfishness, enry and violence have met us at every step. The fraternity of the party has been destroyed, its prestige annihilated, and its organization disrupted.—
Such has been the goal to which the men who now have the lead of the Democratic party have at length hurried the party of

Terrible Steamboat Explosion - More than Fifty Lives Lost.

We have to record another fearful steam boat explosion. The steamer Ben W. Lewis, a packet plying between Memphis and St.
Louis, burst her boilers at Cairo on Sunday

rounding the point, her boilers exploded with an awful crash, which Capt. Sutherland describes as more terrible than any thunde towards the hotel at the time, looking at the most horrible it is possible for the imagina tion to concrive.

The hull of the boat, it would seem, was not injured by the explosion, for she floated three or four miles down the Mississippi, and when burnt to the water's edge, careened over and sunk. Capt Sutherland succeeded in saving one lady and eleven gentlemen—Thirty-five others were saved by the steamer Surne Side and several small houts and several small light and several small several sm Sunny Side and several small boats, and seventeen were landed at Bird's Point on the Missouri side, two miles below Calro. S. does not know how many of the saved were passengers and how many were of the crew, but he thinks that in all more than fif-ty lives were lost.—Chicago Tribune of yes-erday. THE SEVENTEEN YEARS' LOCUSTS -- It seems to be a settled fact that the "seventeen year locusts" are making their appearance in some localities very numerously. . The New York World describes them as already plentiful in that vicinity, and details its Observa tions as follows :

The ground is perforated with round, sharply-defined holes, as if made by a ramrod. Through the earth, boring these holes the beetles, which are to shift their shells and come out locusts, have made their way. We are not scientifically accurate, but the popular belief is, that for seventeen years these beetles have hermited in the earth, these bettles have hermited in the earth, seeing the light only by accident. In the warm summer they crept near the surface; in the winter they retreated from the frost. But now, guided by an irrepressible instinct, they have come out. Every beetle betook himself to the nearest tree or shrub, feeling that mystery of change swelling within and urging him on. Some could creep only a foot upward, some went as high as a man's head; but all were quickly seized by that nead; but all were quickly seized by that strange parturition, and must panse where it took them. We find clinging to the bark, myriads of shells, each with a slit in the back, though which the full-fledged locusts made its way. As many empty shells there around us as there are singing locusts in the

A communication was also received from the Comptroller in relation to the claim of WM JEFFERS & Co., of Pawtucket, R. I., they having furnished the city with a fire engine and book and ladder truck, in 1858. The joint Finance Committee to whom was referred the resolution concerning orders or drafts issued to EDWARD McGaray, on his contracts for converting the 7th Ward Market House into a City Hall, beg leave to

Ith Ward Market House into a City Hall, beg leave to report:

That we have had the resolution under consideration and that we deem it but an act of justice and good faith on the part of the city that the orders mentioned in said resolution, should be made good to the holders thereof, if indeed there is any question as to the liability of the city to pay such orders or drafts which may be in the hands of third parties.

The parties holding these orders, or drafts, are for the most part laboring men, who came into possession of them innocently, having paid for them by the labor of their hands and were not a party to any contract entered into between the officers of the city and Mr. McGarry. Whether said orders, or drafts, were is ued by a direct vote of the bouncil at the last time, or whether the authority to issue them upon the certificate of the superintendent of the contract that the work had been performed, had been incorporated into and formed a part of said contract will McGarry is not now the question; although an inspection of said contract will show that this was provided for; but in the opinion of your committee the orders, or drafts, being duly signed and issued by the agents, or officers, of the city, wom the Charter prescribes shall perform these daties, such orders, and darks, being duly signed and tesued by the agents, or officers, of the clark, so third parties, should be legalized by the Coun.

duly signed and issued by the agents, or officers, of the city, whom the Charter prescribes shall perform these duties, such orders, or drafts, when passed into the hands of third parties, should be legalized by the Council, unless froud has been practiced, so that they may be paid or received by the Treasurer.

That the late officials of the city have, and probably did transcend these powers in entering into the contract with McGasay for the conversion of the Market House into a City Hall is true, and white we do not desire to paliate or cover transactions of this nature, but on the contrary would go all lengths in condemning and endeavoring to put an end to them, yet we be lieve that justice to McGasay and a judicious and economical course on the part of the city, requires the something should be done, if possible, to legalize the contract with McGasay.

There is an old adage that "inecessity knows no law." If there ever was a case wherein a civilized community thus could be applied, it is to be found in our midar. With an empty treasury, and but little or no credit, the officials are expected to earry on the Government, provide for the preservation of the public property and preserve the public peace. In order to accomplish this, as we are situated, it would seem to be public his, as we are situated, it would seem to be public his, that all who are creditors of the city or who have entered inte contract innocently, on their own part, to carry on the Greenment, should be treated with justice and not held responsible for infractions of the law practiced in times past by the officials selected by the people.

practiced in times past by the officials selected by the people.

Your committee are informed that suits upon the orders or drafts have already been commenced and that more will soon be instituted, thus bringing an expense for coasts upon us which, if possible, should be avoided. We therefore recommend the passage of the evolutions and express the hope that the wisdom of the Council will be enabled to effect such an arrangement as that the City Hall may be completed, the treasury not defrauded and the public faith preserved, all of which is respectfully submitted.

On motion of Councillor Ressayers the above was

The Finance Committee, to whom was referred the The Finance Committee, to whom was referred the petition of Joseph Philarity, report:

That we have visited the scene of the disaster mentioned in said petition, and from a careful exemination of the position of the steet, sidewalks, gutters and sewers, which were adjoining and contiguous to the lot occupied by the petitioner on the night of Jane 8d, we are unable to come to the conclusion that the city is liable for the damage austrained by him, or that it is justly concursible for neglect or want of ordinary care in providing for such drainage of the siretts as would naturally occur.

The question of the liability of the city in cases of this kind is one of great importance and we do not feel authorized to establish a precedent by reporting in favor of this petition even if the circumstances attending the accident varcanted it, and believing there is good ground to dispute the liability of the city in this case, we prefer the question should be settled by the Courts, and we therefore for the reasons herein set forthe are compelled to report against the allowance of damages as asked for in the petition of Alderman PRILITES.

> PATTI'S LAST APPEARANCE. - The Acade my contained a very brilliant audience last evening, to hear the charming PATTI. Her appearance was the signal for the same enthu issm that greeted h r the night before. Miss PATTI fully vindicated her claim to the high vocal rank which has been assigned to her by the critic. Her voice is of astonish- Silks. ing compass, of rare quality and unusual compass. She was admirably supported by Mad. STRAROSCH, Sig. BRIGNOLI and Sig. Junea. If Miss Patti is not spoiled by the public, there is no reason to doubt her attaining, in a few years, a position equal to any of the European concatrices.

ORGANIZATION OF A REPOBLICAN CLUB IN THE SECOND WARD .- Ou Monday evening a Republican meeting was held in Kormaun's Saloon, to effect the organization of a Club. The wholety assured by centrifugal motion is sufficient for the discharge of the heaviest description of shot, and the arrangement as to power, relocaty, range, angle of discharge, weight of soi, and rapidity of firing may be varied according to circumstances.

Those of our readers who saw the model of the gun, exhibited here by Col. Dickinson, of the Albany, last spring, will see that the principle upon which Sir M. Stephens son telles, is precisely the same as that adopted in the Dickinson gun. The application of sontrifugal force to the projection of missiles oentrifugal force to the projection of missiles is no new contrivance. David made it historical when he ki.led Goliah with a sling. The difficulty, heretofore, has been to regulate the discharge, and direct the flight of missiles projected from such weapons. In the Dickinson gun, this difficulty seems to have been effectually overcome, and when at the bickinson gun, this difficulty seems to have been effectually overcome, and when at the bickinson gun, this difficulty seems to have been effectually overcome, and when at the bickinson gun, this difficulty seems to have been effectually overcome, and when at seed that we nullify the good effects of berries in proportion as we eat them is the trost of berries in proportion as we cat them with sugar, or even with sweet milk or cream. THE CATTLE DISEASE IN MASSACHUSETTS. -The extraordinary session of the Massachusetts Legislature called together to devise means to arrest the disease among the cattle, concluded its labors last week, having been in session just two weeks. The Commissioners heretofore appointed were thought to have exceeded their powers somewhat, and to be slaughtering the cattle throughout the State is too wholesale a manner. Hence the request to the Executive to convoke the Legislature. A large number of medical neen, veterinary surgeons, and persons who had been employed about the diseased cattle, were examined, and the result was the passage of two acts restricting, somewhat, the powers of the Commissioners, and creating local boards in every town and also a new commission to make careful experiments into the cause and nature of the disease. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars were appropriated to carry out the provisions of these acts. Loss of the U. S. Steamer Walker.

Twenty Persons Missing -- Particulars of the disaster.

She left Norfolk on Tuesday, the 19th inst, and, at the time of the collision, had passed Cape May, and was within about ten hours sail of New York. The wind had been blowing fresh from the north-east, and there was a heavy head sea, which considervital principles to assert and maintain, and resolved to uphold them; the other, like factions of a party, having no conformity of

> The schooner struck the steamer on the port bow, near the forward chains, her head rail taking under the steamer's plankshire, staving in the iron plates, and opening her down to the water lime. The vessels then that the steamer was sinking Captain Guthrie ordered the vessel headed in shore, and sent men below to stop the leak if pos-naces and extinguished the fires, causing the ragines to stop.

Orders were now given to clear away the Legislature to succeed John J. Califfrends.

The Stormlag of Quebec Bencroft's new volume of the History the United States.

As the time for the assault draw near, three ciptains in Arnold's battalion, whose term of service was scon to expire, created dissension and showed a mutinous disaffection to the service. In the evening of the twenty-third, Montgomery repaired to the quarters, and in a few words gave them leave aside; "he would compel none; he wanted with him no reluctance." His words recalled the officers to their duty, but the incident hurried him into a resolution to attempt gaining Quebec before the first of January, when his legal authority to restrain the wayward-ness of the discontented would case. At sundown of Christmas he reviewed Arnold's battalion at Morgan's quarters, and addressed them with spirit, after which a council of war agreed on a night attack on the lower town. For the following days the troops kept themselves in readiness at a moment's remain.

Americans withdrew from the streets, and they could fire with better effect. It was then that Hendricks, while aiming his riffer was shot through the heart. But the retrest of Campbell, and the certainty that the other attacks were only feints, left Carleton free to concentrate all his force against the party of Appold By his orders a salty was now Arnold. By his orders a sally was now two doors north of Uncle Ben's Hat Stote, made from Palace Gate, in the rear of the TAKE THIS OCCASION TO ANAMERICANS, by Captain Laws, with two hundred; they found Dearborn's company divided into two parties, each of which successively surrendered; and then the remnant of the assailants. "the flower of the rebel army." was cooped up within the town. Morgan proposed that they should cut their way through the enemies; but retreat had become impracticable; and after maintaining the impracticable; and after manifating the struggle till the last hope was gone, at 10 o'clock they surrendered. Thus Greene, Meigs, Morgan, Hendricks, the hardy men who had passed the wilderness with purpose of conquest, made for themselves a heroic name, but found their way only to death or a prison. To the continue Carleton purposed. a prison. To the captives, Carleton proved a humane and generous enemy. The loss of the British was inconsiderable; that of the Americans, in killed and wounded, was about sixty; in prisoners, between three and four hundred. When the battle was over, thirteen bodies were found at the place now known as Pres-de-Ville. The hody of Cheeseman, whose career had been a brief but gallant one, had fallen over the rocks. In the pathway lay fallen over the rocks. In the pathway lay Macpherson, a youth, as spotless as the new fallen snow which was his winding sheet; full of genius for war, lovely in temper, honored by the affection and confidence of his Chief, dear to the army, leaving not his like behind him. There, too, by his side, tay Richard Montgomery, on the spot where he full at his death he was in the first for the following days the troops must ve in the spot where the following days the troops must ve in readiness at a moment's month of his fortieth year. In his circular for the Africa, Mr. Bill remarks with reference to the export Irade:

For the last two weeks the supplies of flour have increased and been in excess of the demand; this has co-casioned on exceedingly dull market, and the buyers have land their own way, particularly for the common brands, or such as the warm, weather would the soon est effect. The demand has been moderate, wen at the reduction, both for home use and export; there was, however, a better feeding yexterday, and an improvement of b@lios. Both in price.

For export to England the operations in wheat have again been large, confined chiefly to Milwankee Chief, the supplies have been free, but the demand irregular, and prices have fluctuated, and in the interval have been several cents lower than our present quotations. For the different descriptions of Winner there is but the lie inquiry, and prices bave materially declined. At yesterday's Exchange, with more favorable English advices, holders of Spring wheat did not offer freely, and although the business was checked by an lacrease in the rates of freights, yet sales were made at an advance of J@d-c over Saurday's prices, closing firmly.

HAILWAY MATTERS. THE WAR OF COMPETITION.

The railroads leading West and Southwest of this cit. have wisely determined, so far as it lies in their power, not to allow the Chicago roads to take away any trade that they can bring to this city, and with distance and other advantages in their favor, a determitheir benefit. With a view to attracting the trade of the Upper Mississipol to Chicago, the Illinois Central Railroad advertised to carry wheat from Dubuque to Oswego with the New Oswego Line Calcago for half a cent per bushel, but the Milwanker rat class Canal Boats on the Enlarged Canal and Mississippi Railroad determ ned not to be underbid immediately agreed to carry wheat from Dubuque to Milwauree at the same rate. So with the Milwau-kee & Chicago and Racine & Mississippi Roads compet ng with the Galena & Chicago Road. The latter set ing that the superiority of Mi wankee over Chicago, as a wheat market, was attracting nearly all the wheat shipped from Freeport, that formerly went to Chicago, hitherward, a short time shoo announced that it would carry when from Freeport to Chicago until harvest for mathing, and in this case, as in the other ab-laded to, the Miswaukee roads, not to be outdone by any such means, at once reduced their freight or wheat from Freeport to this chy to correspond with the liberal terms of the Galena & Chicago Road. This is sound policy on the part of the roads leading to this is sound piney on the part of the loss includibles that etty, and effectually diproves the nonsensival idea that they have any disposition to discriminate in the slight-est degree in favor of Chicago. Their interests are illentical with the interests of Mirrauker, and that they know tee well to commit any such suicidal bina

der. A gentleman in England has seed and recovered damages from a rathway Company, who, regardless of their time-table, withdraw, without previous notice, a certain train advertised to start at a certain time, whereby he suffered pecuniary loss. The Court held that the published times for starting were a species of concret and had been violated. Lord Campagua also decided that the Company were guily of making false and fraudulent misrepresentations. SALE OF RAILROADS.

The Minnesota and Pacific, and Transit Railroads, were sold at public auction at St. Paul, by the Govern-or, on Saturday. They were bid in for the State at $1,000 each. The validity of the sale will probably be tested before the Supreme Court,
